May Reinstate Acquitted Flier

Sqn. Ldr. Frederick William Poland in the R.C.A.F. will be taken under review by the air force following his acquittal of a charge of communicating confidential information to Russia in Canada's spy probe, an air force authority said this afternoon. The 37-year-old Poland was suspended by the air force.

U.S. Representative Charges Graft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives Paul Shafer, Rep., Mich., asserted today that the United States Under-Secretary of State, William L. Clayton, is making "millions by misusing American tax money" and demanded his dismissal.

In a House speech, Shafer also said "my research proves to me" that Dean Acheson, also Under-Secretary of State, "has learned well how to feather his own nest while serving in a public post."

Model Union Shapes Up

"It's a bare existence at best," says Rosalie Drackett, left, president of San Francisco Models' Association, who is campaigning for a union scale. Figure models are asking a minimum of $2 per hour for "undraped" posing; Helen Mack (right), fashion model, will receive $10 minimum under the new scale.

3 White Russian Generals Executed

LONDON (Reuter)—One former lieutenant-general and two former major-generals who were leaders of the "White Russian" movement have been condemned to death and the sentences carried out. Moscow radio said tonight.

The operation on the 66-year-old former Chicago Cub, who with Johnny Evers and Frank Chance formed one of the game's most-renowned infield combinations, was performed at Orange Memorial Hospital.

Education Official Wins London Post

OTTAWA (CP) — The Civil Service Commission announced today John Peter Sigvaldason, 43, of Winnipeg, has been declared the successful candidate in a Dominion-wide competitive examination for the post of assistant secretary in the office of the Canadian High Commissioner in London.

A native of Baldrup, Man., he graduated from the University of Manitoba and was a teacher and principal in various Manitoba public schools and later became inspector of schools and then chief administrative officer with the Manitoba Department of Education.

In London Mr. Sigvaldason will be responsible, in addition to general administrative duties, for maintaining liaison with officials of the United Kingdom government on subjects of particular Canadian interest.

Promises Investigation Of Abuses Of Priorities System

In a cross-fire of questions and charges against the workings of the priorities system for building supplies, E. A. Leslie, Vancouver representative of the priorities officer, told a meeting of Victoria builders Wednesday that he was prepared to investigate and rectify any abuse of the priorities system which was reported to him in writing.

"Housing Enterprises get nails," said Mr. Leigh, while Mr. Scott suggested that a heavy penalty be put on such misuse of the nails. "We can't police all the contractors," Mr. Leslie pointed out. "Do you police Housing Enterprises?" queried Mr. Leigh. When Mr. Leslie said yes, Mr. Leigh retorted, "I'll gladly let you do it if I can get nails."

Mr. Leslie explained that there was a great shortage of nails because of strike conditions and only 510 tons of rods had come for the whole of B.C.

"Do you know where we can get more supplies?" he asked. "We'll gladly let you have more if we can get more."

ELECTRIC WIRE

H. J. Langdon, electrical contractor, raised the question of wiring supplies and declared that the 500 feet allowed per house was not sufficient to do the job except in a very small house. For a modern house he claimed it took 750 to 1,200 feet of wire to wire it and less was of no use. Mr. Jones explained that the purpose was to make the meagre supply of wire stretch as far as possible, and make houses ready for occupancy even if they were not completed. This did not satisfy the builders who felt that 500 feet would not even make a house ready for occupancy.

Ald. Edward Williams queried if the contractors on Vancouver Island were being given their share of quotas on a pro rata basis with mainland contractors, because he said there was general feeling they were not. Mr. Leslie said he was sure they were, but took note of the matter for investigation.

Speaking of the lumber picture, Mr. Scott claimed he had not been able to buy wooden lattice on the market for a year unless he wished to step on to the black market and pay $12.50 a thousand for it.

Fuel Oil Supply Reported Critical

TORONTO (CP) — Terming the present furnace oil supply situation "critical," a spokesman here said Wednesday night that major Canadian oil companies would accept no more orders for oil-burners and no new contracts for the present.

Mr. Leslie suggested that Victoria builders and suppliers should form themselves into a joint council such as has been done in New Westminster, Calgary and Edmonton for the purpose of co-operating to channel building supplies to veterans housing, in addition to the priorities system. "It works very well there," he commented. "And in New Westminster, because of this co-operation we have been able to finish 186 veterans' houses within a short period.

When he was told that wholesalers would not give a priority to veterans out of general supplies, but preferred to sell to a contractor doing what is termed non-essential commercial building, he said he could see no reason why Victoria should be so different from other communities and so lacking in co-operative effort.

NAILS, A PROBLEM

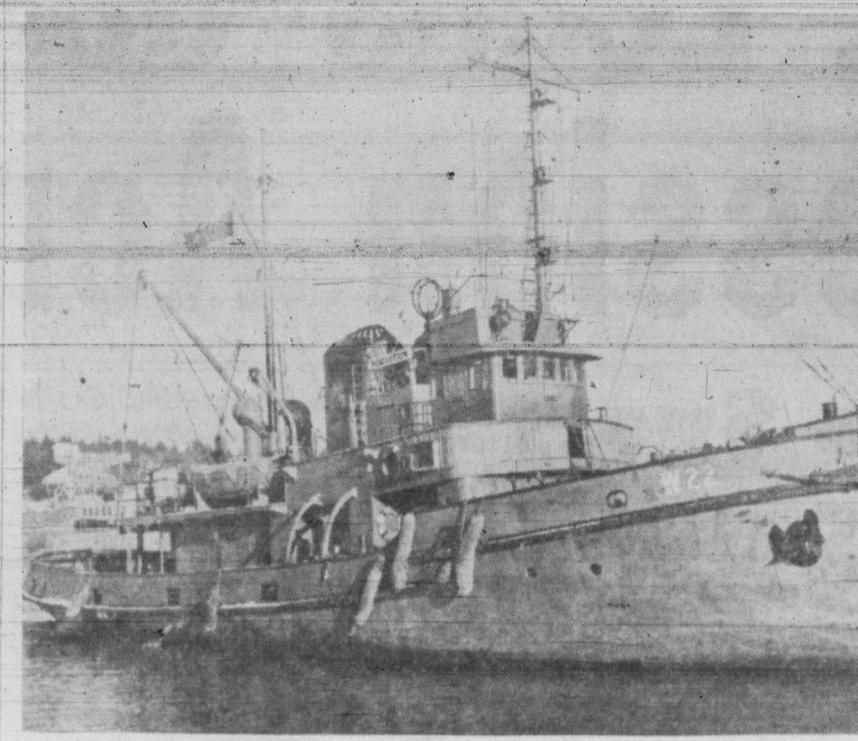

Mr. Leigh was insistent that a contractor should be allowed to get priorities for nails for a veteran's house before it reaches the 50 per cent stage, and Mr. Leslie explained how it could be done through the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Citizens Rehabilitation Committee. "But that's only 50 pounds of nails," protested Mr. Leigh. "Housing Enterprises can get kegs of nails. How far do you think we can go on 50 pounds of nails?"

There is provision for additional nails, Mr. Leslie explained, but this did not satisfy the builders who said they were not prepared to put any of their small stocks of nails obtained on the open market into veterans' housing when they had non-priority jobs waiting.

J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector, interjected that the manner in which the D.V.A. gave out the nails was a crying shame. "I don't think much of it," he declared. "The veteran has to go down there, lose time from his job, wait around in their office at their convenience for an hour or more and then carry the 50 pounds of nails home on his back. Why can't the contractor pick them up? You need to straighten out this outfit here and I think you should investigate it." Mr. Leslie promised that he would.

The international situation, the proposals made at the recent session of the United Nations, the rapid changes in types of weapons, these and other considerations made it undesirable at this time to settle finally the composition or character of the future armed forces of Canada," he said. "The year 1947 should be regarded as a period during which we will establish the defence forces of Canada on a sound administrative basis, cap-

Navy Tugs Here In Rescue Service

Deep-sea tug Heatherton, which with a sister ship, the Clifton, will be used for air-sea rescue here.

An extension of the air-sea rescue service, a specialized service for the whole of the province, will incorporate an added sea rescue service in the Greater Victoria area when one of the Royal Canadian Navy's full-time harbor craft will stand by at all times for sea emergency jobs in local waters.

The plan, which was evolved at a special meeting of B.C. Police authorities and naval officers of the Pacific Command this week, is designed to give greater protection to lower Vancouver Island citizens along the coast.

Because prompt and efficient action may save lives in a sea emergency, the public is instructed to first contact the B.C.

service, will in turn contact the navy for action.

The craft to be supplied by the navy for this work are the 260-ton deep-sea tug, Heatherton, and the sister ship, Clifton, which will stand by on alternate watches. The 1,000 horsepower tugs will be ready for any sea emergency in the Greater Victoria area.

Two smaller tugs, the Glendevon and Glendon, also will be available.

Frost Menaces California Fruit

By the Associated Press
Smudges were smoking in southern California orchards today as citrus fruit growers attempted to save crops in the face of below-freezing weather.

With groves being artificially heated to combat temperatures around 25 degrees, the federal fruit frost service predicted even colder weather for tonight and tomorrow.

Although the temperature drop brought the winter's most severe cold in that area, officials of citrus associations expected little if any damage to their rich crops. With the exception of isolated, exposed regions, most fruit ranches are equipped for concentrated smudging.

Across the country, in Pinson, Tenn., another freak wind, de-

Seek Relatives

Provincial police are endeavoring to locate relatives of Miss Jane Steedman Keddie, who was found dead in bed by neighbors who broke into her Shawinigan Lake home Wednesday after becoming alarmed at her absence from the district for several days.

An autopsy showed that the woman who had lived by herself at the lake for several years, died from natural causes, police said.

EDMONTON (CP)—R.C.A.F. officials announced today the names of six men killed when an air force plane crashed Wednesday on Marsh Lake, near Whitehorse, Y.T.

The victims were five R.C.A.F. personnel, including the commanding officer of the station at Whitehorse, and a civilian employee.

Officials of North West Air Command at Edmonton said the only information they had was that the crash occurred while the plane was returning to Whitehorse from Teslin, Y.T., where the R.C.A.F. officials had been investigating a fire.

Teslin is about 105 miles road southeast of Whitehorse. Marsh Lake is about 45 miles south of Whitehorse and near the Alaska Highway.

Killed were:

Flt. Lt. Robert L. Curtin, pilot attached to No. 6 Communications Flight at Whitehorse.

Sqn. Ldr. Robert Andrew Bucham, D.F.C., commanding officer of the R.C.A.F. station at Whitehorse.

F.O. Alfred Henry Hartvilk, works and buildings officer stationed at Whitehorse;

Flt. Sgt. Joe Milner, N.C.O. in charge of fire fighter section at Whitehorse;

(Wives of these four men are living at Whitehorse.)

LAC Charlie Curtis Brooking, aero-engine mechanic at Whitehorse, flying as crewman; mother, Mrs. Sid Brooking, Trevern, Man.

Ray Othen Porter, electrician, R.C.A.F. civilian employee at Whitehorse; mother, Mrs. Harriett Porter, Edmonton.

London Truckers' Strike Ends Saturday, Say Leaders

LONDON (CP)—A meeting of delegates, representing striking London truck drivers whose walkout involves more than 50,000 men, broke up after 40 minutes today and the first strikers to emerge from the hall announced, "We are going back to work Saturday morning."

Later, heads of the Transport and General Workers' Union announced the 11-day-old strike had ended and the strikers would return to work Saturday.

Unofficially, it was understood at anchor with their cargoes at anchor with their cargoes fully unloaded.

The truckers had demanded a 44-hour work week instead of 48, an eight-hour day, 14 days annual vacation with pay, half-pay during illness and abolition of the cumulative week for overtime purposes.

Troops employed delivered about 200 tons of meat from Smithfield Market Wednesday.

APPLAUSE HEARD

From time to time during the closed meeting, bursts of applause could be heard.

Some delegates ran down the stairs shouting "It's back to work" to strikers assembled in the street.

More than 100 ships were tied up in the Port of London by the strike of 20,000 dockers and stevedores who walked out in a protest against use of troops to move food supplies from markets.

The troops were called in Monday in an effort to relieve the situation caused by the strike of London truckers, whose 11-day work stoppage today involved at least 50,000 men.

Vincent Auriol,
Socialist, Named
French President

PARIS (AP)—Vincent Auriol was elected President of France today.

The veteran Socialist leader was chosen President of the Fourth Republic at Versailles Palace when an unofficial count gave him 452 votes with 212 going to the Mouvement Républicain Populaire candidate, Auguste Champenois. Ribes, Jules Gassac and the Radical Socialists won 122 votes and Michel Clemenceau, son of the Old Tiger of France representing the P.R.L., 60.

The Communists—not advanced a candidate, but supported Auriol.

It was the second honor in two days for Auriol, 62, long known as a peacemaker in French politics. He was chosen Tuesday as President of the National Assembly.

The left and centre applauded when Jacques Duclos, Vice-President of the Assembly, announced the choice of Auriol as the first popularly-chosen and regularly-elected President of France since 1940.

Auriol's first task was to accept the resignation of Premier Leon Blum, Interim President for a month and long Auriol's colleague in the Socialist Party.

Sentiment was reported growing to form a coalition cabinet. Blum's chances of being elected Premier were believed strengthened by his agreement with Prime Minister Attlee to negotiate an Anglo-French alliance to forestall German aggression.

Milder temperatures were general over western B.C. today, with intermittent rain falling this morning.

It is expected to turn to snow tonight in advance of another outbreak of cold air covering the northern portion of the province tonight and expected to reach the south portion tomorrow, the south portion includes Victoria.

The temperature rose to a high of 37 degrees above zero yesterday, the low 31 degrees. Minimum reading is predicted as 23 tonight and the maximum tomorrow 36.

According to the forecast Vancouver is due for another deluge of snow. Rain drizzles today and continuous snow tonight and Friday, is forecast.

Warned Away From Jail
NOBLESVILLE, Ind. (CP)—"No Trespassing" signs surrounded the jail here today. The sheriff objects to persons congregating on the jail's lawn to talk through the bars with prisoners.

Ex-R.C.A.F. Officer
Found Not Guilty
In 15th Spy Trial

OTTAWA (CP)—Frederick Williams Poland, 37-year-old R.C.A.F. squadron leader, today was acquitted of a charge of communicating confidential information to Russia in a judgment handed down by County Court Judge A. G. McDougall in Canada's 15th spy trial.

In giving the judgment, Judge McDougall said he found that Poland, Illinois-born son of an Anglican clergyman and a newspaperman by profession, had satisfactorily discharged the onus placed on him by the charge.

A second charge against Poland under the Official Secrets Act, was adjourned until March 16.

Almost immediately the court began hearing the case of the 16th Canadian to face the courts as a result of the Dominion's espionage probe first announced 11 months ago, that of Dr. Henry Harris, Toronto optometrist, on conspiracy counts laid under the Official Secrets Act.

Meanwhile, members of Parliament felt the pinch of the strike as hash and cottage cheese replaced the customary roast beef or lamb in the House of Commons restaurant.

Although Parliament still is in Christmas recess, so many members are busy preparing bills that the catering staff is kept busy preparing 500 meals a day.

Invitations Close Jan. 22 For Opening Of House

Invitations to attend the second session of British Columbia's 21st Legislature which have not been accepted by Jan. 22 will be considered as rejected, W. R. Webster, who is making the arrangements, reported today.

To the opening of the house Feb. 11 have been invited senior members of the judiciary, consuls of foreign nations and members of the clergy, along with wives and friends of members and others.

Available in the newly-decorated legislative hall are 456 seats.

Ford Of Canada
Not Cutting Prices

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—No immediate reduction in the price of Canadian-built Ford cars is contemplated by the Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd., Vice-President Rhys M. Sale said today. He added that the "economic circumstances" which had led to price decreases in the United States were not duplicated in Canada.

REEVES NOT INTERESTED

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE United Nations Charter emerged from the San Francisco Conference, two of the "Big Five" have agreed that it is in their mutual interests to enter into a treaty of alliance. The high-contracting parties are Great Britain and the Republic of France. The official statement announcing this intention came from the office of Prime Minister Attlee at 10 Downing Street last night. Beyond the brief intimation that this decision had been taken during the visit to London of Premier Leon Blum of France, the communiqué declared that negotiations for the alliance "should be concluded at the earliest possible moment within the framework of Article 52 of the Charter . . . and with the object of preventing any further aggression by Germany and of preserving peace and security." The concluding paragraph of the document reads as follows:

"The two governments were furthermore convinced that the conclusion of such a treaty would facilitate the settlement in a spirit of mutual understanding of all questions arising between the two countries."

Until subsequent deliberations between the British and French governments permit the publication of details of this proposal it is impossible to speculate on the precise intent of the new alliance; but it can in no way be described as an altogether surprising development. It takes us back to the original Entente Cordiale established between the two nations near the dawn of the century—a mutual understanding which stood the test of the First Great War. It reminds us also of the offer of union which Mr. Churchill made to France in the dark days of 1940—a noble gesture on the part of Britain which the "men of Bordeaux" defeated by the narrowest of margins. It brings us also to a realization that, after her great travail, France is looking to a new association with her old friend to assist in strengthening the Fourth Republic, as well as in facilitating her national revival.

It will be noted that the alliance is to conform with Article 52 of Chapter VIII of the United Nations Charter. This is the part of the document which sanctions the existence of "regional arrangements" or agencies for dealing with such matters relating to the maintenance of international peace and security as are appropriate for regional action." The phraseology of the provision in question, of course, makes it abundantly clear that such arrangements or agencies must be consistent with the Purposes and Principles of the United Nations. Notwithstanding the categorical phrasing of Article 52, and regardless of the specific mention of this provision in yesterday's official announcement, the apparent agreement on the proposal advocated by the Prime Ministers of the two nations will probably result in a spate of speculation. But it merely predicates a return to the original close association between Downing Street and the Quai d'Orsay.

A STRANGE VOICE

CANADIANS, WHO REGARD THE NEW Citizenship Act, the Privy Council decision on Canadian appeals, and other recent developments as symbols of the nation's maturity, will be surprised by the attitude of the New Zealand Herald, which sees in them trends that will "react to the detriment not only of the Empire as a constitutional entity, but also of every individual partner in the most effective league and union of nations the world has yet known." This editorial expression of gloom from a newspaper in our respected sister Dominion can only stir a sense of incredulity here. It is as if our younger brother were admonishing us not to grow up, not to reach the stage when we should carry our own key to the front door and exercise our rights as adults, because such actions might cut us adrift from the family.

Surely none but the most hide-bound colonial can view these Canadian acceptances of new responsibility in such a depressing light. The clarification of status which this Dominion seeks to make in the two particulars mentioned can scarcely be considered as strokes of an axe severing the ties that unite the British Commonwealth. In so far as the imperial theme is concerned, it has been the strength of the system which centres in what is affectionately regarded by many as the Motherland that its bonds have been elastic. Had they been rigid, the strains of international affairs might have stretched them long since. Because they have been pliant, the Commonwealth has adjusted itself to the varying stresses to which it has been subjected.

One of the most telling arguments in support of the maintenance of this sisterhood of nations is that its members can find little outside it which could not be secured with greater advantage within. That is a point most Canadians have taken as a guiding principle since the days of an unfortunate George whose resistance to development cost his government the robust young country which is now generally recognized as the most powerful nation in the world.

In this day and age, moreover, there can be little inclination to an isolationist attitude within the British Commonwealth. The entire family and each member of it can base hopes for continued existence only on the ability of the whole and its separate parts to live amicably with each other and the other peoples who inhabit the globe. That concept does not permit a trend toward ossification within the Commonwealth. It requires the resilience and adaptability to change which for decades has been the sustaining factor in this association of partners.

ANGLO-FRENCH ALLIANCE

IF GREATER VICTORIA'S TRANSPORTATION system is to be unified—a condition which the majority apparently desire—that objective will not be achieved under a public ownership plan dependent upon municipal contribution to capital costs. Reeves of adjoining municipalities made that clear to Alderman H. M. Diggion, chairman of the transportation committee, yesterday. Pursuit of a public ownership course, the alderman noted, could be effected only if the city were prepared to finance the system alone and then sell it to the different municipalities in a manner similar to that by which the city distributes water. In other words, according to the impression the committee chairman gained from the reeves, such an arrangement can be undertaken only if Victoria accepts all the risks, does all the work, and then has a service to sell. That is not a prospect to invite enthusiastic aggression by Germany and of preserving peace and security." The concluding paragraph of the document reads as follows:

"The two governments were furthermore convinced that the conclusion of such a treaty would facilitate the settlement in a spirit of mutual understanding of all questions arising between the two countries."

The alternative is clearly defined. It was set forth by Mayor George in his inaugural address to the City Council earlier this month. On that occasion the chief magistrate observed:

"The taxpayers having refused to approve an agreement with the B.C. Electric Railway Company for a new transportation system, as presented at the December elections, it will be necessary to keep negotiations with that company—no other company having shown any interest in the establishment of a transportation system to cover Greater Victoria. I see no reason why we cannot conclude an agreement that will be acceptable to the taxpayers, in as much as we now have knowledge of the various objections to the arrangements formerly suggested."

Moreover, His Worship has also emphasized the desirability of arriving at a decision quickly:

"The improvement of many of our streets, so long overdue, depends largely on the type of transportation service we will have and a definite arrangement cannot be long delayed because some of our streets are in such poor condition the maintenance is becoming excessive."

Considered in conjunction with the decision of the reeves announced yesterday, that seems to sum up the case. Greater Victoria wants a definite transportation service arrangement—with as little delay as possible. And if the terms relative to acquisition of a going concern embodied in the agreement rejected by the taxpayers in December are maintained in any new arrangement, the opportunity still exists to discuss, at intervals of five years, purchase and operation.

A 'REASONABLE NUMBER'

OBVIOUSLY FEELING THAT IT WAS advisable for him to say something about immigration—after Hon. J. G. Gardner's announcement—Mr. John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, told the members of the Neepawa Board of Trade in annual meeting on Monday that he favored a policy which would admit into the Dominion a "reasonable number" of potential settlers. But when the former Premier of Manitoba voiced this idea he underscored it by saying that were it adopted, we would then not need "to send such a large proportion of exports out." The brief dispatch reporting Mr. Bracken's speech, while not elaborating further on the topic with which the opposition chief dealt, quoted him as complaining that Canada was tackling the immigration problem from the wrong end.

It has become a habit of the national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party to deal with public affairs in the loosest fashion—doubtless hoping he will be able to get by with a collection of meaningless platitudes. What does Mr. Bracken mean, for example, when he talks about a "reasonable number" of migrants? How many is a "reasonable number"? Perhaps on some future occasion he will deal with this subject so as to convey some idea to the people of this country precisely what he has in mind on the midwife.

None needs to apologize for failing to get the drift of an argument purporting to show that much less concern for the future of Canada's export business would be necessary if a "reasonable number" of new citizens were admitted. While the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party tell us, for instance, the number of immigrants who would "consume 200,000,000 bushels of wheat ordinarily destined for overseas?"

STOCK TAKING

IN A JANUARY ANALYSIS OF CHRISTMAS buying in the United States, the New Republic (New York) notes that Hollywood purchases "pushed dollar sales in the nation's department stores to peaks 22 per cent above the bonanza levels of 1945." It adds, however, that the figure is misleading in as much as 80 per cent of the rise in sales merely reflected a mark-up on price tags since controls evaporated. The spree, incidentally, was followed by a push on the part of some stores to dispose of merchandise at greatly reduced prices in post-Christmas sales.

The situation disclosed is of specific importance to the United States. Its application is general. It emphasizes once again the importance of production to prosperity. Inflated sales receipts are no index of national well-being.

London Cavalcade

By FRANK WALKER

THE SCHOOL-LEAVING AGE will soon be raised from 14 to 15 in Britain. Since there are 740,000 14 and 15-year-olds at work it will mean extensive changes. As can be seen, there is still a great deal of child labor employed on these islands, though much of it is under apprenticeship schemes.

Some figures on the number of 14 to 17-year-olds are interesting. In agriculture, which includes forestry, market gardening and horticulture, there are more than 60,000 boys aged 14 to 17 years; in mining there are 34,350 and some 2,410 girls. Metal manufacture employs 17,470 boys and 6,730 girls in this age group. Engineering has 89,110 and 29,080 respectively. Ship building, ship repairing and other metal industries take 62,620 boys and 43,450 girls. Transport provides work for 58,710 boys and 10,290 girls. The little city office boy who seems to spend his life carrying around cups of tea is numbered at nearly 12,000.

The money these children earn is often a vital part of the family finances. Nothing has been said about this yet but something undoubtedly will be when these small pay envelopes fail to materialize.

THE HOUSEWIFE whose hard-earned

Sunday dinner has been ruined by a power cut is not particularly receptive to excuses dealing with power loads and generator replacements, but the fact is that power consumption has risen from 20,000 million units before the war to more than 30,000 million units last year. Much of this increase is due to domestic consumption and the electrical authorities estimate that about 4,500,000 kilowatts must be added to the present British capacity of 11,000,000 kilowatts in order to meet the demand.

The sad fact is that many Britons deliberately switched to electric power after the warnings about coal shortages and the experience of the gas strike. Now efforts are being made to halt the sale of electric appliances. The present cuts which come without warning unless by chance one is listening to the BBC have even affected hospitals.

THE SCOTSMAN may not think much of the Englishman, but since V-E day 60,000 have drifted south across the border and there are signs that migration from the British Isles is again becoming attractive. Between 1871 and 1931 Scotland lost a net total of 1,250,000 of her population by emigration. This was about one-third of her mean population.

There are harsh words for the planners when the Scottish Council of Social Service discussed these matters. Nothing but "words, words, words" was how one delegate described them.

Scotland is no doubt a case where "absence makes the heart grow fonder." DR. J. W. B. DOUGLAS, member of the Royal Commission on Population, is in charge of a nationwide inquiry into the economic problems of child-bearing in Britain. He has discovered some interesting facts which illustrate the sad differences economic circumstances make of a situation in which all men or women, rather, are truly equal.

For example, while three out of five wives of professional men in Britain get relief from childbirth, only one out of five in the manual labor group do so. Furthermore, one mother in four among the latter group has her child in an overcrowded house, while her sister of the "black-coated" worker meets this situation in only one out of 10 cases and the professional and emigrant class only in one out of 20.

One in two births in the manual worker group takes place in the home, against one in three in the black-coated worker and one in five in the professional worker. The majority of women in what is broadly called the "better-off" group have their own doctors, while manual workers generally depend on the midwife.

Where births take place in hospitals, the professional group remain for at least 10 days; the manual worker group stay only five. The professional group wife does not normally do full day's work in the home before 15 days have elapsed from the birth of her child. One in every two of the manual worker group do so.

A LUSH PERFORMANCE of Purcell's "Fairy Queen" can be seen at the Royal Opera House in Covent Garden. The opening a few days ago recalled the strange history of the score of this opera which was lost for over 200 years and finally found in the library of the Royal Academy of Music. The copy found was one which had been used at the Dorset Garden Theatre in 1692 and had some of the numbers in Purcell's own handwriting.

The composer died in 1695 and in 1700 the London Gazette published this advertisement:

The score of the music for "The Fairy Queen" set by the late Mr. Henry Purcell and belonging to the patentees of the Theatre Royal in Covent Garden, London, being lost by his death, whosoever brings the said score or a copy thereof to Mr. Zachary Baggs, treasurer of the said theatre, shall have 20 guineas reward."

Winnipeg Honeymoon

For Doris Creed

Nuptial vows were exchanged Jan. 13 at First United Church by Miss Doris May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Creed, 2534 Wort Street, and Norman Hunniford, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hunniford, Winnipeg, Man. Dr. H. A. McLeod performed the ceremony.

The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a powder blue suit styled on dressmaker lines, and sequin hat. An arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums and pink carnations completed her ensemble.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Frewing, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. Mrs. Frewing wore a grey pinstripe suit and grey hat and carried bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a two-tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table, which was covered with an all-over lace cloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunniford are honeymooning in Winnipeg and on their return next month, plan to make their home in Victoria. The bride chose a green afternoon frock with matching fur-trimmed coat, black plastic accessories and corsage bouquet of pink carnations for her traveling costume.

Used as an astringent, good quality witch hazel acts as a cream remover and powder base at the same time.

Victoria Girl Principal in Attractive Wedding

Personals

His Honor Lieutenant Governor Charles A. Banks and Mrs. Banks entertained with a small dinner party at Government House Wednesday evening in honor of Brigadier Sherwood Lett and Mrs. Lett of Vancouver. Covers were laid for 16.

Major S. H. Okell and Mrs. Okell will be "at home" today from 4 to 6 at the Union Club on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Invitations have been issued to 150 friends. Major Okell is assistant district administrator, (Victoria and Vancouver Island) Department of Veterans Affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Irwin of Saskatoon, are visiting in Victoria and are registered at Cherry Bank Hotel.

Mrs. C. F. Holmgren, Leigh Road, Langford, has as her guest her mother, Mrs. E. Millbrant, from Lulu Island.

Mayor G. G. McGeer and Mrs. McGeer, who have been in Victoria for several days, returned to their home in Vancouver Wednesday night.

Miss Alice Schofield, 606 Douglas Street, is visiting in Saint John, N.B., the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Schofield.

Toronto visitors in the city are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stevenson, who are the guests of Mr. Stevenson's brother, Mr. W. E. Stevenson, Roscrae Place, Island Highway.

Joining the ranks of prominent Victorians on holiday visits to southern California are Mrs. B. E. Ridewood, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. James Watson, her daughter, Miss Suzette Watson and Miss Flora Burns. Mrs. Watson and Miss Watson, who returned to Victoria from Hedon, Yorkshire, about three months ago, will visit the former's nephew, Mr. T. E. Lampman, and his family in San Mateo. Other members of the party will holliday in Santa Barbara.

A miscellaneous shower was given Monday for Mrs. Charles Ray, who recently arrived from England, by her three sisters-in-law, Mrs. Reg Fisher, Mrs. Samuel Brasher and Mrs. Arthur Halpen. The home of Mrs. William Ray, 1184 Esquimalt Road, was the scene of the affair. Guests were 30, mostly in blue and yellow for the party, attended by 30 guests. The honor guest received a corsage bouquet, the gift of her father-in-law, and gifts were presented to her by Misses Peggy Ray and Diane Christison.

Mrs. Gerald Murphy and Mrs. Frank West were tea hour hostesses on Wednesday at the home of the former, 2747 Cadboro Bay Road, in honor of Miss Blanche Clarke, a January bride-elect. A corsage bouquet of pale pink carnations was presented to Miss Clarke with a silver chop dish from the assembled guests. Corsage bouquets were also presented to the mothers of the bride and groom-elect. A crystal bowl of spring flowers centred the tea table where Mrs. T. G. Clarke was seated. Other guests were Mesdames A. Kershaw, C. Mackie, H. Bruce, N. Niven, E. Clark, G. Riach, N. Addems, L. Duncan, C. Ballantyne, B. Chalk, H. Daglish, F. Simpson, H. Day, Misses M. Simpson and Josie Clarke.

Mrs. Arthur Freeman entertained at her Cobble Hill home on Wednesday on the occasion of the second birthday of her daughter, Linda. Guests were Mrs. Lester Barry and Arlene; Mrs. Doug Hunt with Janice and Wendy; Mrs. C. Blake and Joan; Mrs. D. Marrs with Bobby and Doreen; Mrs. H. Cavin with Mary and Betty; Mrs. W. Seales with Deanna and Linda; Mrs. A. Ramsden of Happy Valley with Wendy; Mrs. J. W. Jackson of Duncan, with Dianne and David; Mrs. J. Foyle with Charles and Joan; Mrs. J. L. Brown of Victoria; Mrs. G. F. Peatt of Glen Lake; Mesdames B. A. McKeown, J. LaFortune, Sr., W. J. Freeman, S. Samuelson and Master Kenny Bonner.

Mrs. A. J. Houston, assisted by her daughters, Misses Eleanor and Alma Houston, entertained with a pantry shower, Wednesday, at her home, 1530 Vining Street, in honor of Miss Rita Straughan. The principal was presented with a novelty corsage of colored kitchen spoons and doilies. Mothers of the bride and groom-elect, Mrs. S. J. Straughan and Mrs. R. H. Lotte, the Queen was still in deep mourning. She relinquished the post only when the Queen died.

Mrs. Norman Yarrow gave the report of the nominating committee and Mrs. E. H. W. Elkington, mothers' convener, discussed a meeting of the Community Chest Mothers' Committee, which she attended.

Frances Drummond Dies

LONDON (AP)—Hon. Frances Mary Drummond, 99, who for 30 years was maid of honor to Queen Victoria, died today.

Daughter of the ninth Earl of Strathallan, Miss Drummond entered the service of Queen Victoria when, 10 years after the death of the Prince Consort, the Queen was still in deep mourning. She relinquished the post only when the Queen died.

A fascinating talker on Victoria, she retained as well a tremendous interest in the affairs of the world and of her own family.

Mother of an 18-month-old boy, "Mr. America," otherwise Mrs. Freda Astor of Anderson, N.J., was pictured in New York during her recent 20-week United States tour, which was part of her prize.

Local Memorial public meeting to be held, Jan. 21, 8 p.m., Chamber of Commerce "all."

Open Drive To Curb Deaths Aboard Small Craft In This Area

In a step to curb the number of fatal accidents which have occurred aboard small craft in this area, the marine section of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will assist the Department of Transport in checking up on all vessels carrying inadequate life-saving and fire-fighting equipment, G. A. Yardley, Collector of Customs, announced today.

Mr. Yardley said the department, alarmed by the number of accidents in this area, has issued orders for a tightening up of the regulations as laid down for small craft under the Canada Shipping Act, 1934.

In order to contact the operators of the small craft, both pleasure and commercial, the assistance of the R.C.M.P. has been secured and members of the force's marine section may board any of these craft at sea or in harbor to examine them.

If the craft are found to be without the equipment required, the matter will be reported to Mr. Yardley for necessary action.

Owners would be penalized and their vessels detained until such time as they complied with life-saving and fire-fighting equipment, Mr. Yardley said.

AVOIDABLE ACCIDENTS

"Some of these accidents should never have happened and would not have if the boats had been equipped with the proper life-saving equipment," Mr. Yardley said.

There are two sets of regulations, one set covering commercial boats not exceeding five tons, and the other covering pleasure craft used exclusively for pleasure and not carrying passengers (meaning any person other than the master and crew, the owner, his family and servants connected with his household and other than the guests of the owner of any ship used exclusively for pleasure).

There have been no detentions yet, Mr. Yardley said, as he was using his announcement to give the owners of affected craft an opportunity to know that the safety drive was being inaugurated.

The regulations list, for pleasure craft, one approved life-jacket for each person on board, one approved lifebuoy if the ship exceeds 20 feet in length, and fire-extinguishing equipment of varied quantity according to three groups of vessels—those not exceeding 35 feet, those exceeding 35 feet but not 50 feet and those exceeding 50 feet but not 75 feet.

In case of doubt as to the equipment to be carried in any particular vessel, the matter should be referred to the steamship inspector of the district, or the chairman, Board of Steamship Inspection, Ottawa.

For commercial vessels, the regulations list one approved lifebuoy, if the vessel is in excess of 20 feet in length; one approved lifejacket for each person on board; and an approved buoyant apparatus to accommodate 50 per cent of the number of persons aboard if more than 12 passengers are carried.

Fire extinguishing equipment is also listed and varies for a vessel not exceeding 20 feet in length, a vessel exceeding 20 but not 35 feet in length and for a vessel exceeding 35 feet in length.

In both regulations, special warning is given against leakage of gasoline, or risk of fire due to unshielded woodwork or other inflammable material being too close to hot pipes.

Fire extinguishing equipment is also listed and varies for a vessel not exceeding 20 feet in length, a vessel exceeding 20 but not 35 feet in length and for a vessel exceeding 35 feet in length.

In both regulations, special warning is given against leakage of gasoline, or risk of fire due to unshielded woodwork or other inflammable material being too close to hot pipes.

The regulations list one approved lifebuoy, if the vessel is in excess of 20 feet in length; one approved lifejacket for each person on board; and an approved buoyant apparatus to accommodate 50 per cent of the number of persons aboard if more than 12 passengers are carried.

The Royal Bank of Canada Annual Meeting

Sydney G. Dobson, President, declares increased industrial output, co-operation between management and labor and substantial tax reductions would provide bedrock of future prosperity—"If business, labor and government keep their heads, there is no reason why we should not complete our delayed reconversion plans this year and prepare to step forward in future."

James Muir, General Manager, reports assets at record level for sixth consecutive year—notes increased financial assistance rendered business and individuals—deposits at $1,963,103,951 reach new high point—foreign branches valuable aid to traders.

Warning that lavish government expenditures provide no assurance of good times, and that living standards cannot be raised through less production of wages, was voiced by Sidney G. Dobson, President of The Royal Bank of Canada, at the bank's Annual Meeting.

On the other hand he declared that increased production and whole-hearted co-operation between management and labour would provide a solid basis for prosperity. He also noted that the present level of taxation was a drag on business and the substantial tax reductions which would give an incentive to individuals and to industry, encourage expansion and new ventures, encourage greater production and lower prices and, therefore, prove an aid to a higher standard of living.

CANADA'S FULL PART—Stressing the increasingly important role of Canada in world affairs, Mr. Dobson said: "Canada is playing her full part in the peace organizations and served on nine international bodies. She was the second largest contributor of food and the third largest contributor of money to UNRRA. She has the largest store in the world of the basic essentials of atomic energy—uranium. I believe that though in numbers the Canadian people carry small weight in the world, when the account of world well-being comes to be added up it will be found that the weight of Canada's influence was a big factor in our collective success is attained."

Mr. Dobson said: "In the past few years have brought home to all of us the fact that business and industry exist to satisfy the needs of people."

There are many wants, such as political and economic security, facilities for improvement and relaxation, opportunities for education and wider education, but I shall speak particularly of the business aspects. I believe that prosperous business conditions will be the bedrock upon which other wants will satisfy most of their wants."

SUCCESS NOT MADE OF DREAMS

"There have been all sorts of plans laid out by all sorts of people in our economic affairs, but it is becoming clear that many of the old principles of sound economics will survive, and some that had been abandoned must be returned to. On the whole our Canadian people are sensible and sound. They are enterprising, thrifty and steady, and they are good workers."

Canada's advancement is one of people and resources and the ingenuity of the people in using the resources.

Roughly 60 per cent of our population are under 40 years of age. The bulk of the economic bulk of the people is not yet "old" in ways, but is of an age to demand the latest, or better than the latest, in devices, comforts and services of all kinds. It is a thought to keep every business executive on the alert, because people's wants rule the market and decide the profit or otherwise of business."

"Given an intelligent approach by business executives who are trying in a sincere way to develop a better knowledge of what the consumers want, there is no reason why Canada cannot look forward to a period of great expansion, profitable business, and high standards of living."

"I regret now that the responsible outlook many persons have regarding work and wages. I am one who believes that the time will come again when possession of a job will be considered an asset, when having a little money as a standby will look larger in people's minds than leisure hours. True satisfaction can be found only when the market values mainly the work he does, and not how much he is able to compete his employer to pay. I believe in a high standard of living for everyone, and in leisure, but I am sorry to say that too many of our people today make high wages and plentiful leisure the greatest aims of their lives. They pay too little attention to the fact that every producer is also a consumer, so that what they gain as producers they lose as consumers. It is wholly false to say that less production and more pay per worker can result in prosperity. This is as false as to think that the material and labour costs can be increased without at least a corresponding increase in the cost of living."

FOREST WEALTH

Reviewing Canada's fortunate competitive position, Mr. Dobson pointed particularly to—Canada's $13,000 square miles of productive forest wealth and noted that steps taken to assist its conservation—"Canadians are generally surprised to say, 'when they learn that their pulp and paper mills take only about 23 per cent. of the annual forest crop, while fuel wood takes 31 per cent. lumber and miscellaneous products take 41 per cent. and pulpwood exports use over 5 per cent."

"The pulp and paper creates more employment than any other manufacturer and is the largest single item in Canada's export trade, yet fire, insects and disease consume 60 per cent. more wood annually than the pulp and paper mills. Other countries have succeeded in practically eliminating blights due to nature. In Sweden, with less than 8 per cent. of Canada's forest area, there are more than twice as many forest engineers as in Canada."

RECORD DEPOSITS

The General Manager noted that total deposits had increased by more than $74,000,000 to the new all time high mark of $1,963,103,951. The number of deposit accounts in operation continues to grow and as a matter of fact has increased in Canada alone by 11,000 during the year, bringing the total in operation up to 1,670,000.

The profits for the year were $90,244,000, which is 12 months more than the Directors' Report for the preceding year.

"As you will have observed from the Directors' Report, it has been decided to transfer the Reserve Fund of the bank $5,000,000 from the amount at credit of Profit & Loss Account."

There will still be left the substantial sum of $1,467,414 to be carried forward.

"You will also note that the Reserve Fund also been further increased by the addition to it of the sum of $15,000,000 bringing the Reserve Fund of the bank up to $10,000,000."

"It may be recalled that in the previous meeting of the Directors 30% was donated to transfer $10,000,000 from the Reserve Fund to the Reserve Fund."

VALUE MULTIPLIED

"I wish to draw one fact particularly to your attention. In 1945 the pulp and paper industry took pulpwood valued at $122 million, and produced a value of $160 million, which is a gross value of $400 million. In other words, the industry multiplied more than threefold the value to Canada of its pulpwood cut. In course of that process, its mills gave employment to 40,000 persons and paid them $204 million in salaries and wages. Its intention is to support workers, their families and their dependents, and their wages amounted to $75 million. When you add the purchase of materials and supplies, $184 million from the Reserve Fund to the Reserve Fund, you realize how important the industry is to the whole economy of the nation."

this to have been an overly conservative precaution. Consequently the entry has simply been reversed."

AD TO FOREIGN TRADERS

Discussing the wide network of branches operated by the bank, Mr. Muir referred particularly to the useful role played by the bank's foreign branches in facilitating foreign trade.

The unique position which we occupy, he said, "as the Canadian bank with the most extensive chain of foreign offices, enables us to render exporting and importing clients a banking service which cannot be paralleled."

Mr. Muir spoke in highest praise of the loyalty, ability and interest of all members of the staff. Your bank is not the work of any one man, he said, "nor even of any small group of men. On the contrary, it is a monument to the co-operative effort of many, each one serving with enterprise and enthusiasm in his or her particular sphere of duty."

"I cannot compliment them more highly to you, nor, as I see it, can the Management of the bank render a greater service to you than that they should at all times try to ensure that a staff such as I have described is fostered, encouraged and maintained."

PRODUCTS FROM WOOD

"In addition to the forests are opening up for the use of our forest products, such as in the manufacture of plastics and textiles." This field so far, may only just been tapped, and holds tremendous possibilities. We cannot, therefore, afford to waste or see carelessly destroyed any portion of our vast forest resources.

Throughout the responsible financial period during late months we have seen articles to the effect that today more than ever increased industrial output is a necessity. We need the best co-operation possible between management and labor.

It was the first official admission that Philip and the Princess have much more than a nodding acquaintance.

The official—he wouldn't permit use of his name—imparted his information with a smile and a faint emphasis on "quite."

He dropped his nugget of news when asked if the government had given any consideration to the Sunday Pictorial's public opinion poll on the desirability of the marriage. Forty per cent of those writing to the newspaper opposed the union, chiefly because of Philip's connection with Greece.

Another 5 per cent said the Princess should give up her right to the throne if she married him.

The official said many of the cabinet ministers indubitably had read the Sunday Pictorial, but the poll had not been mentioned officially because, officially, there is no engagement. When and if things reach the right stage, he said, the cabinet could be expected to take its own stand on the matter.

"We consider that Canadian citizenship is a matter of deeper import than mere monetary gain to the government of the day."

In regard to supporting the Princess' proposed engagement, the official said: "We are not yet in a position to make an appointment. The resolution points out:

"Furthermore, this branch strongly resents the breaking of promises extended to personnel of the services when they were overseas, or in the forces, that they would be given every consideration and preference on return to civilian life, by public bodies and governmental agencies, which promises would appear to have been disregarded in this and other instances."

Jan. 29 was announced as a social night for members and guests.

GENERAL MANAGER'S ADDRESS

In presenting the bank's 77th Annual Report, Mr. Muir, General Manager, stated that for the sixth consecutive year the total assets of the bank, which now stand at $2,131,976,116, had reached a new record level. New records had been broken in many departments of the bank's business. Liquid assets totalled $1,609,742,160, representing 81.69 per cent. of the total liabilities to the public.

The volume of commercial loans is up by $25,389,321," said Mr. Muir, "but this does not give a true picture for the reasons that on November 30, 1945, a Victory Loan campaign was in full swing; nor is the loan total a complete index of the financial assistance which is being supplied by the bank to our clients in their postwar business activities." Under the heading "Other Bonds, Debentures and Stocks" are many millions of dollars representing the purchase by the bank of short- to mid-term bonds and debentures issued by clients to enable them to carry out expansions and improvements of a capital nature.

"In addition, the smaller class of customer continues to take substantial advantage of our facilities. This is demonstrated for example by the fact that during the past year we have made a total of nearly 150,000 loans to $500 and under for personal purposes.

Our banking business abroad has also continued to expand as illustrated by a well diversified increase of $16,623,715 in commercial loans."

RECORD DEPOSITS

The General Manager noted that total deposits had increased by more than $74,000,000 to the new all time high mark of $1,963,103,951. The number of deposit accounts in operation continues to grow and as a matter of fact has increased in Canada alone by 11,000 during the year, bringing the total in operation up to 1,670,000.

"It may be recalled that in the previous meeting of the Directors 30% was donated to transfer $10,000,000 from the Reserve Fund to the Reserve Fund."

How to Combat RHEUMATIC PAIN

Rheumatic pains may often be caused by excess uric acid, a blood impurity that should be excreted by the kidneys. If kidneys fail and excess uric acid remains, it may cause severe discomfort and pain. Treat rheumatic pains by keeping your kidneys in good condition. Get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Says Scouting Is World's Greatest Friendship Promoter

"Scouting is the world's greatest international friendship movement," said H. C. Stevenson, Montreal executive chairman of the Canadian General Council of the Boy Scout Association, addressing the annual meeting of the local association.

Mr. Stevenson's talk dealt with scouting the world over, in the British Commonwealth and Empire, in the Dominion and the province.

He pointed out that the population of the scout and cub personnel in the movement the world over bettered the 5,000,000 mark. He said the Canadian Association Council this year became a member of the International Bureau of Scouting.

Headline event in the world scouting picture was the international jamboree next year in France. Canadian attendance, Mr. Stevenson noted would be limited by the transportation shortage. "However, I hope we will have at least one full troop, including scouts from each province, to represent Canada at the event."

The national president urged that Canadian scouts work for the World Friendship Badge, noting he thought this was one of the most proficiey badges on which more emphasis should be placed in the future.

Mr. Stevenson figured that Lord Rowallan, the chief scout of the British Commonwealth and Empire, fully deserves the title bestowed upon him by a Canadian scout official as "Great Britain's Best Ambassador" following his recent tour, which covered a distance of 15,000 miles. "Lord Rowallan," he said, "was impressed with the high quality of the boys Canada has in scouting."

The speaker considered the appointment of Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry, as Dominion executive commissioner, a boon to scouting in Canada. Heavy work at Dominion headquarters at Ottawa, he said, had kept the general from making a western visit to date.

MORE LEADERS NEEDED

Mr. Stevenson told of the Dominion council's plan for the development of more leaders in Canada, and the need for more leaders. It was fully realized that the future of scouting depended on leaders.

Scout membership in Canada reached the 100,000 mark in 1946, he said, and expansion plans for the next few years were being drafted.

Turning to B.C., the national president said that one thing officials should endeavor to do this year was to have more boys attend camps. "After all," he said, "scouting is an outdoor activity, and in this respect I hope opportunities for the troops to do outdoor scouting in the wintertime will be given rather than have members cooped up in meeting places so much of the time."

He urged the development of the river and lone scout branches of scouting.

License Suspended For Mrs. Roosevelt

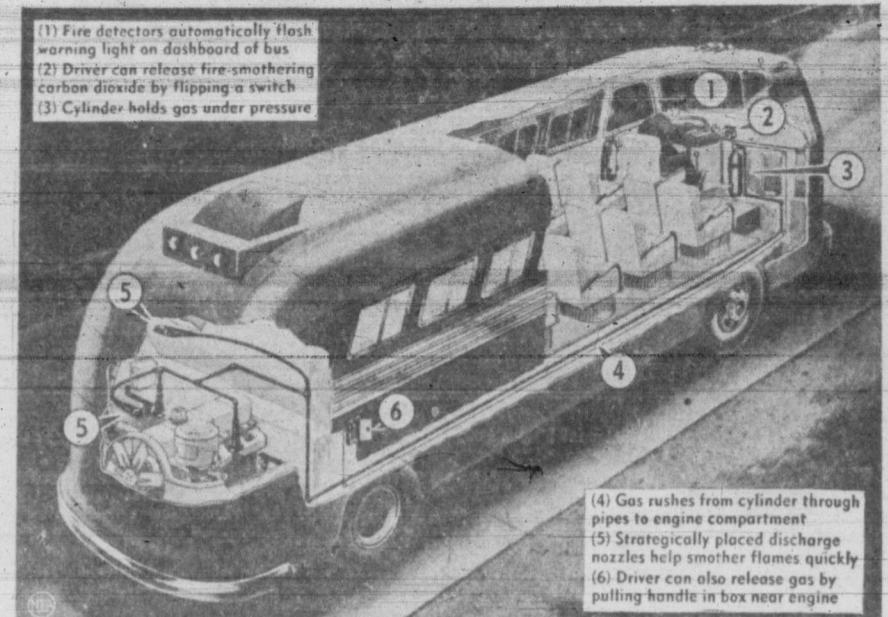

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt received notice Wednesday from the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles that her driver's license had been suspended, her secretary, Miss Malvina Thompson, said.

The action was taken as a result of a three-car collision some months ago.

She may apply for reinstatement after 30 days, but must pass a driver's test.

The gall-bladder is absent in all common members of the deer family.

New Glues Keep West In Front In Lumber

SEATTLE (AP) — Radio frequency drying of wood glues can preserve for Washington State its eminent position among the world's leading lumber producing areas. Dr. O. Harry Schrader, University of Washington forestry professor, said Wednesday,

"By using radio frequency," he said, "industry can now utilize small pieces of wood in all kinds of construction. It is no longer necessary to mill huge timbers."

Dr. Schrader, director of a two-day conference which started on the campus today, said experts of the country had come to learn of developments in gluing wood by a new electronic process. Research has been under way at the university.

"This will mean an immediate raise in wages for journeymen barbers and employees," James A. Green, president of the Barber Shop Owners' Association of Washington, said.

Vancouver To Have Underground Garage

VANCOUVER (CP) — Providing the plans meet with the approval of a special committee of city officials, a $500,000 underground parking garage will be constructed here.

A. F. Denton, who has a lease on the proposed site of the garage, presented the plan to the traffic commission, which approved it in principle but referred it to the city engineer, building engineer and traffic engineer for their approval.

The garage would have two levels below ground and would be capable of accommodating between 200 and 300 automobiles.

Ss. Parthenia Loads 200 Tons Of Salmon

The British steamship Parthenia, of the Donaldson Line, originally scheduled to sail from here for Vancouver Tuesday evening, was held over here one day to load 200 tons of canned salmon from J. E. Todd and Sons Ltd., R. A. H. Cumberland, Pittfalls, Comox, and shipping agents reported today.

Now Costs More For Haircut, Shave

Representatives of all barber shops in Greater Victoria, at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the British Public Schools Club, unanimously voted to increase the prices of adult haircuts and shaves and children's haircuts, the new scale going into effect today.

Adult haircuts are now 65 cents, a shave 35 cents and children's haircuts 40 cents.

"This will mean an immediate raise in wages for journeymen barbers and employees," James A. Green, president of the Barber Shop Owners' Association of Washington, said.

He urged the development of the river and lone scout branches of scouting.

Mr. Stevenson told of the Dominion council's plan for the development of more leaders in Canada, and the need for more leaders. It was fully realized that the future of scouting depended on leaders.

Scout membership in Canada reached the 100,000 mark in 1946, he said, and expansion plans for the next few years were being drafted.

Turning to B.C., the national president said that one thing officials should endeavor to do this year was to have more boys attend camps. "After all," he said, "scouting is an outdoor activity, and in this respect I hope opportunities for the troops to do outdoor scouting in the wintertime will be given rather than have members cooped up in meeting places so much of the time."

Enthusiastic Group Of Young Boxers

Further evidence of the increased popularity of boxing in the city is this picture of the large group of youngsters who are receiving instruction in the manly art at St. Louis College. In charge of the class is Louis Cullen, former well-known local heavyweight scrapper, seen watching two of his protégés, Alvin Fisher and Donald Frenette, square off.

Portland and Vancouver kept pace in the Pacific Coast professional basketball race today, with the Canadian five taking over undisputed possession of second place.

The leading Portland quintette knocked over Spokane, 67 to 57, last night, while Vancouver posted an easy 76 to 56 win over 47 to 34 decision to the Harlem Globetrotters.

Portland's triumph soured the hometown debut of the inland empire five, which started fast to lead throughout much of the first quarter and trail only 36 to 32 at half-time. J. Mandie paced Portland with 20 points.

Vancouver, with Norm Baker counting 24 points, moved out to an early lead, and was never headed. Watson led Seattle with 21. Half-time score was 36 to 29.

Spokane and Portland tangle again tonight, with Seattle hosting Bellingham.

Chicago Makes Bid For Olympic Games

CHICAGO (AP)—The city council Wednesday authorized Mayor Edward J. Kelly to extend Chicago's official bid for the 1952 Olympic Games.

Kelly said the competition could be held in Soldier Field, "one of the largest stadiums in the world," and added, "Chicago, the nation's greatest transportation centre, would be the ideal host."

The Olympic Games Committee will meet June 11 in Spokane to select the site.

Team scores follow:

Seattle-Persons 1, Spokane 1, Portland 1, Vancouver 1, Bellingham 1, Yakima 1.

Tom Dixon's Fox Terrier Best In Parlor Show

Tom Dixon's wire-haired fox terrier Maleden Spotlight took top honors at the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers Association parlor show in the Crystal Garden last night, winning best in show, best senior puppy and best Canadian bred awards.

Schalo, a Pekinese owned by Mrs. I. J. Allen, took best toy honors while Oakcrest Leonna Louise, a cocker spaniel of the Oakcrest Kennels, captured best of sporting group.

Best hound award was taken by Mrs. Larsen's daschund, Merry Belle of Rock Manor, while Mrs. W. Den's Brigade Girl, a bulldog, took best non-sporting.

R. V. MacIntyre's Monty, a dachshund pinscher, was best of working group while best junior puppy in show went to Merry Belle of Rock Manor.

Seattle Ironmen In Coast Hockey Win

Seattle's six bats the seventh consecutive game to score a second possession of second place in their respective sections as a result of Pacific Coast Hockey League victories last night.

In the northern division, Seattle Ironmen had the runner-up slot to themselves by virtue of a 5 to 4 win over New Westminster Royals. Had the Royals won—they were leading 4 to 1 at the end of the first period—they would have joined Seattle and Vancouver Canucks in a three-way tie for second place.

San Diego Skyhawks regained possession of second place in the southern division by blanking Tacoma Rockets 4 to 0 in San Diego.

Hollywood Wolves continued their winning ways with a former Moose Jaw Miller, Harold Brayshaw, leading the way with four goals as the Wolves handed San Francisco Shamrocks a 7 to 2 lacing.

Rough, Foul Tactics In British Football Draw Caustic Comment

By JACK SULLIVAN

LONDON (CP)—This first full-blown football season since 1939 has heard one sour note in what otherwise is a high-pitched chorus of enthusiasm. Sports writers and club officials complain that rough play has appeared to an alarming degree.

The Football Association, always on the alert to guard the honor of the game, has "nothing to say" about the allegation of win-at-any-cost soccer. The players' uniform also has no comment.

Such phrases as "unpardonable brutality—athletic anarchy—cold-blooded fouls—greenguard gangsterdom," have appeared in a few papers. Arsenal of the first division and Tottenham Hotspur of the second, have written about rough play in their program notes.

The writer said the rules are clear and asked: "Is it too much to ask that the referee use his authority to the full and come down on the hothead and the crafty hand with the severity the deserve?"

John Thompson, writing in the London Daily Mirror, said the "indignation" of club directors and managers into "sickening exhibitions of malice and brutality" by some players may result in the most thorough disinfection soccer has known; the cleansing forever of an evil minority." He said unfair tactics are so vicious young players are seriously injured "before their talent can flower."

He added that "injury lists of clubs up and down the country have seldom been so long." Arsenal has had its share. "Wolverhampton, at the top of the league standing, has suffered much, and an official of Birmingham said that, at one time, they had no fewer than seven first team players on the injured list."

The DOCTOR Says:

STREPTOMYCIN IS NO MIRACLE T.B.-KILLER

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Will the drug streptomycin replace other forms of treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis? Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, and his associates at the Mayo Clinic believe that tuberculous patients who are making satisfactory progress through conventional methods of care, do not need streptomycin.

Streptomycin apparently suppresses, instead of destroying, the tuberculosis germ.

Although a search for a drug effective in the treatment of tuberculosis had been under way for 60 years, it was not until six years ago that streptomycin was discovered.

Doctor Hinshaw and his associates treated 100 patients with various types of tuberculosis in the past two years. Some of the patients had tuberculosis in several locations.

Most unusual was their experience with five patients who were covered with widespread tuberculosis and tuberculous meningitis. Recovery in these forms of tuberculosis has been so uncommon that these patients probably are the first of their kind in medical history.

Patients, including some with rapidly advancing tuberculosis, who would have undergone surgery in the past were given streptomycin. Striking results were obtained in several of these cases, although the disease apparently was suppressed and not eliminated.

T.B. SURGERY ADVANCES

Great progress has been made in the surgical treatment of tuberculosis through the injection of air between the chest wall and the lungs and the destruction of the chest wall by removal of the ribs.

With streptomycin it may be possible to prepare for this operation patients who were not considered suitable subjects in the past.

The discovery of streptomycin has aroused hopes of ultimately finding a more perfect drug for

To Present Data On Public Ownership At Meeting Tonight

A full discussion on the implications of public ownership of the transportation system to the city of Victoria is promised at the meeting tonight being sponsored by the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council at the Boilermakers Hall.

Al. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the transportation committee, has prepared considerable data on how the acquisition of a transit system which might entail a capital outlay of $2,000,000 would affect the finances of the city and has D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, working on a report to find out whether Victoria could borrow this sum on its credit, and what the rate structure would have to be in order to pay debt charges, operating expenses and depreciation reserves.

He said he was prepared to discuss these matters at the meeting tonight, to which have been invited Premier John Hart, Hon. R. C. Macdonald, Minister of Municipal Affairs; the Victoria M.L.A.'s, members of the Public Utilities Commission; Mayor Percy George and reeves of the three municipalities and representatives of transportation companies. In addition members of any A.F. of L. union affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council may attend the meeting.

George Wilkinson, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, said the purpose of the meeting is to get all information on public ownership of transportation, which has been pushed by labor ever since the question of a unified system arose some 18 months ago.

Vancouver Firms Get U.B.C. Contracts

The Provincial Works Department has awarded to Marwell Construction Co. and Leek and

Co. both of Vancouver, contracts for an addition to the power house on the University of B.C. campus.

Marwell Construction's contract is for $50,500 while Leek's bid to do the work for $43,540 which was accepted.

Other electrical contracts for the campus have not yet been awarded.

7 Aliens Become Canadian Citizens

"If the day ever comes when Canadians cease to show respect for the law, we shall lose our privileges and liberties," Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court, today said in presenting certificates of citizenship to seven aliens under the new Citizenship Act.

"You are now Canadians," said the judge in urging them to continue to be respectable Canadians. "Your decision to adopt this country was a wonderful act on your part and was done of your own accord."

The judge said they were now entitled to the same privileges as any other Canadian, and had even the right, if politically inclined, to become a member of Parliament.

The applicants who became full-fledged Canadians today took the oath of allegiance to the King and Canada, and at the same time renounced all ties with their former native land. All had a good knowledge of the English language.

The seven applicants hailed from Denmark, Belgium, Italy and Greece, and all had resided for sometime in this country.

Gus Murphy, Greek, appeared to be overwhelmed when he received his certificate. "I'm very proud," he beamed at the judge.

The other six citizens were:

Jens Jensen, Dane, Saanich; Eugene Muller, Belgium, Cordova Bay; Francesca Poane, Victoria; Edwin H. Winstedt, Denmark, Victoria, and Otto Vilhelm Larsen, Stryg, Denmark.

When the Waard family arrived in Victoria, Mrs. Waard was "first mate" of the Amoy, while her husband was master.

Capt. Waard is now in semi-retirement on Gabriola Island and engages occasionally in commercial fishing.

His mother, Mrs. Choy Waard, 62, who lives on Gabriola Island with her husband, Capt. Robert Waard, went to Vancouver to seek her son after she had received a call two weeks ago from the son's landlady, who said she had not seen him for a week.

At the last meeting of the City Council, Jan. 6, there was considerable discussion on the matter, which has occupied council attention periodically since last July. Alderman Margaret D. Christie was worried lest the city be held liable for damages should any of the tenants receive injuries from occupying the unsafe premises.

Mayor Percy George said he had been informed that the outside walls of the building were good, and only the interior needed to be rebuilt, but J. W. Oosterink, building inspector, said he could not pass on the condition of the walls until the owners could examine the foundations.

BUD—
REMEMBER I remarked here after Christmas Day. Santa left on our home a sleigh. With a steering bar and running gear ready, and on the top it's name is BUD. I was so happy that I won't mention the sum, since with a run looped on my turn, and with legs stretched out, the ride was good enough with my doffers all bundled in red, each with a hand on the steering bar, and a hand beside me at the top of the lawn. "Daddy, show us how to ride upon. Cos we have a new sleigh, and we're going to ride upon it." Now, here's a new idea.
The sleds were all ready, and the bottoms some distance apart. And the high, hard board fence. And the gals having had added it nice so it was a steaming sheet of ice.

ROSE—
I sure—Chesterfield Suite
you like this model.
$19.50 also in same pattern.

I said, "Just watch your dog." I told him, and then I heard him.
Buddy hard, this is the no. I could hear me crack a rib. (I'm pigeon-chested anyway, and not the type to break a rib.)
I had to go to the doctor, and he told me to rest, and I did, but settled down and didn't sleep. I was gathering speed, running a lot, to the point of racing for the fence. The fence I hit in high, and got a hunk of shrubbery in my eye.

ANOTHER lovely Chesterfield Suite which we just opened up, has the sofa in pale powder blue, the other chair in old rose. And a green ribbed velvet.

I PICKED UP THE ROPE and turned around, looked at the gal way up on the mount. They were laughing at me at the time, but I heard them.
I sat beside the sleigh. "Oh Gee, Daddy,
Do it again." I thought, "I'm a pain." But sure we were going nicely-split, I mean, GET UP, don't sit still." So back up, and I sat in the chair, and then walked back a mile, I don't know how often up and back, then the outdoor man, no indoor man, a
Santa had overlooked. LEAVING US
BUDDY.

Buoyant Bumsteads In New Adventure

Those purveyors of hilarious family entertainment, the Bumsteads, will be here tomorrow, when their newest film, Columbia's, "Blonde Knows Best," opens at the Dominion Theatre. Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Larry Simms, Marjorie Kent and Daisy return in their familiar roles. The screenplay, written by Edward Bernds and Al Martin, is based on the comic strip "Blonde," created by Chic Young.

Western Glamour In 'Hopalong' Film

All the glamour and color of the Old West have been brought to the film town of Mesquite, setting of "Three on the Trail," latest in the series of "Hopalong Cassidy" westerns which comes to the Atlas Theatre today with William Boyd in the leading role of "Hopalong."

Specially built on location near Kernville, Calif., the mythical town of Mesquite symbolizes the new-famous frontier town of Whisky Flats, Hays, Dodge City, Abilene, Hangtown, Deadwood, Tombstone.

'Behind The Mask' Detective Thriller

Monogram's "Behind the Mask" is a lively detective thriller which sparkles with suspense and hilarious byplay. The comedy mystery has its first showing at the Rio theatre today, proved a winner in the capable hands of co-stars Kane Richmond and Barbara Reed.

The Joe Kaufran production is the second in the new Shadow series based on the copyrighted stories published in the Shadow Magazine. Director Phil Karlson is entitled to generous applause for his direction of the George Callahan screenplay based on Arthur Hoerl's original story. Now playing opposite Gary Cooper, Lilli has a clause in her contract permitting her to accompany her husband, Rex Harrison, any time he chooses to return to England.

Before coming to Hollywood, Harrison and Miss Palmer made their first screen appearance together in "Notorious Gentleman." Universal's exciting British made release, now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres.

ROYAL THEATRE

Marriage takes preference over a career in the life of Lilli Palmer, British movie star.

Now playing opposite Gary Cooper, Lilli has a clause in her contract permitting her to accompany her husband, Rex Harrison, any time he chooses to return to England.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Robert Young has the colorful role of a successful gambler who abandons his profession when he falls in love with co-star Barbara Hale in "Lady Luck," RKO Radio's newest comedy-romance, now at the Capitol Theatre. Frank Morgan has the other starring role. Much of the action takes place in Las Vegas, Nevada, where James Gleason, Don Rice, Harry Davenport and other noted funsters band together to protect their erstwhile associate from reform.
